Tutoring Experience

For the past 5 years, I've been dedicated to tutoring IB Physics, guiding students through their Internal Assessments and Extended Essays. I've taught over 50 students globally and marked numerous IB Physics papers, helping students identify common mistakes and improve their results. Having worked as an examiner, I offer insight into how to approach questions efficiently.

I've taught in multiple countries, including the UK, Japan, and the USA, and this experience has enabled me to understand how students from different educational systems approach learning. I use this international experience to help my students develop critical thinking skills and gain confidence in their physics knowledge.
